THE GENTLEMAN IN POLITICS

A PROOF THAT SUCH THINGS CAN BE

William Walter Phelps, who lost a re election to the house by six or seven votes being defeated by A. W Cutler, has held a correspondence with his successful opponent which reflects credit upon the courtesy, honesty and intelligence of both It is so unusual in the [illegible] of rival candidates, that many persons might find in the exchange of courteous phrase mere masquerading with words, but we prefer to believe it sincere and commend it as such Mr. Phelps assures Mr Cutler that he does not mean to contest his election, considering that he had fair play and that the cause of his defeat was obviously lack of votes He has pleasure in thanking Mr Cutler for the uniform courtesy of the canvass, and adds "I prized the honor of representing this constituency and I regret the loss of it, but I am not without consolation in the thought that my loss has been your and the public gain You and them do I congratulate you that you have secured this large opportunity of serving the people and them that the voice of their district shall be as before, only more eloquently and efficiently, against those enemies of the republic who would perpetuate an irredeemable currency, increase the central power and plunder the national treasury Mr Cutler's response is equally courteous In the whole canvass there had not been an expression that left an unpleasantness in his memory He did not seek the nomination nor having accepted it anticipate success—but now that I am elected I am painfully conscious of the fact that I immediately succeed one who has secured in a single congressional term a national reputation made his district celebrated, compelled all parties to do homage to his talent admire his eloquence and acknowledge his power It is said that comparisons are odious and I fear that I shall often realize its truth when comparisons must necessarily be made disadvantageously to myself"

STOCKING THE MISSISSIPPI WITH SHAD

There may be more shad in the Mississippi next year than the skeptical are disposed to imagine The annual report of Prof S F Baird on national fish culture, contains interesting facts and opinions which encourage the hope that Seth Green's small fry, cast upon the waters, may return to us after many days in the shape of full grown unctuous shad Doubters have objected that the distance from the upper waters and the hatching grounds of the Mississippi to the ocean is too great to permit the young shad to make their way to the sea and return again at the proper season Dr Baird maintains, with examples that the distance to be traversed by the shad is a matter of small consequences The great shad river of China—the Yangtse Kiang—is 3 315 miles long and shad ascend almost to its source The distance is greater than that from the mouth of the Mississippi to the attainable waters of all tributaries, excepting the Upper Missouri and in the doctor's opinion the shad of the Mississippi would not need to go more then 1,800 miles from its mouth to find the best hatching grounds Starting at the mouth of the river at the beginning of the year they could move leisurely along and reach the upper waters in from two to four months arriving there in suitable condition for the destined work The Mississippi is thought to have an advantage for shad propagation because its course is nearly north and south and fish entering it at a certain season, progressing slowly, would keep pace with the season and find the water at a uniform temperature all the way up The fish would thus escape serious changes of temperature and would not be subjected to the extreme heat until after the spawning period was past

HOW THE REPORT OF THE QUEEN'S DEATH STARTED—The false report of the death of Queen Victoria which was telegraphed the other day only to be immediately contradicted started in a London newspaper office through the commendable enterprise and foresight of its manager but without his approval or knowledge It seems that in the office referred to a biography of the Queen was prepared ten years ago in prudent recognition of the fact that royal lives, like others are uncertain and had lain quietly in its pigeon hole ever since waiting for the occasion which might require its use at short notice Some time last month it occurred to the editor that it might be well to have this article revised and brought down to the present time and he accordingly intrusted the work to a competent hand On its completion he thought he would like to see how it looked in type and therefore gave it out to be set up A compositor saw in the opening paragraph the statement of the Queen's death expressed in solemn and affecting phrase, and at once spread the news Of course it traveled fast and far No one knew its origin, but the mystery of its source did not deprive it of credit It had reached the ends of the earth before its falsity was ascertained—Worcester Spy

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO Dec 30—The Cornell watch factory enterprise involving the establishment of a watch factory in the Kimball Manufacturing Co's building at the corner of Bryant and Fourth has hitherto been described Yesterday the seventy operators from Chicago brought out by the company were reported by the morning papers to have refused to work if Chinese were introduced into the factory To-day the officers of the company called the operators together and informed them that Chinese or any other class of workmen that might be desirable would be employed The company propose to manage its own business, and all workmen who desired could leave the employ of the company [illegible] The rest went on with their work

An old man named John Caddy was found dead this morning in his room at the Pacific lodging house corner Commercial and Leidesdorff streets He was dressed and lying upon the floor against the entrance door A vessel sat near him which contained a quantity of blood, and his clothing was covered with blood He came down from the interior some time ago for medical aid and has since been treated for lung disease The cause of his death is thought to be hemorrhage of the lungs He formerly worked on the railroad in Marin county He is supposed to have friends in Sacramento as he received regular remittances from that place

Interior California.

LOS ANGELES Dec 30—The name of the man killed at Mission Gabriel yesterday was Andrew Miller Nelson

Weather cloudy and warm with indications of rain

TRUCKEE Cal Dec 30—F M Cady an employee of the Western Union Telegraph Co this afternoon found a Chinaman lying dead on the railroad track about a mile east of town His neck was broken and there were bruises on his head His body was still warm when found but no clue has been discovered that gives any explanation of his sudden taking off

ARIZONA.

TUCSON Dec 29—There is a report in town regarding a rich gold mine in Sonora on San Miguel river near Ures Some lumps worth sixty dollars which were obtained by washing with a wooden bowl have been exhibited here Claims extend over a mountain two miles square, more or less gold being found on the entire surface High up on the mountain a great deal of mining had been done a century ago and continued down to a point where the vein turned to sulphuret silver, which they could not work The present owners gentlemen of this place, are developing it as fast as circumstances will permit. A tunnel has been run beneath the old works where was found an immense deposit of decomposed quartz and other substances also gold-bearing The location is four miles from the river, which affords an abundance of water Two arrastras are now in operation propelled by water power The freights from Guaymas are $20 per ton All the other conditions are favorable. It is generally believed that even under Mexican rule the mine will pay immensely

YUMA, Dec 30—The steamer from mouth of the Colorado river at noon of 28th [illegible] reports the steamer Montana twenty days due from San Francisco, not arrived. Some anxiety is felt by those having freight or friends on board Her arrival will be promptly made known here

YOU JOHN'

A MAIDEN BETRAYED BRINGS HER LOVER TO TERMS ON WISCONSIN SOIL—AN OPEN AIR WEDDING

[From the Dubuque Herald, Dec 9th]

John Shaw and Miss Jennie Connors are residents of Jones county Iowa. A few months ago John commenced paying his addresses to Jennie, and with such success that the latter soon found herself in an interesting situation She gently reminded John that the proper thing for him to do was to step forward and assume the paternity of the expected responsibility but John turned a deaf ear to these pleadings, and as Jennie grew importunate, he finally got up and dusted out of the county A warrant was issued out for his arrest some three months ago but John dodged the minions of the law and finally drifted to the metropolitan city of Dubuque, while Jennie, like the avenging Nemesis came tumbling after Yesterday morning Mr C H Brandt the wide-awake Constable of Farley, who had a warrant in his pocket for the arrest of John as a seductionist, met his man upon the street and told him that he must settle the matter at once by marrying the girl or going to jail Barkis was "willin" to marry, said he always had been willin but swore a big oath that he would never be married on Iowa soil At this juncture a mutual friend of the parties, Rev J T Crosby of Des Moines appeared upon the scene, and at his suggestion John and the girl took to the ferryboat and were transported to Wisconsin soil where Mr Crosby proceeded to make them of one flesh after the most approved fashion The parties were married on the bank of the river, outdoors, with a stiff [illegible] blowing and half a dozen roustabouts for spectators The entire ceremony wedding trip and all, did not occupy over an hour The groom saluted his bride she responded, Ain't this fruit, through? he gallantly exclaimed 'You bet and the deed was done and they walked back to the ferryboat arm in arm as man and wife They went West last evening, and will henceforth do what they can toward increasing the census of Jones county It wasn't a very romantic wedding, and if John and Jennie are satisfied we presume the world will be and right there we let the matter rest

THE OPENING OF CONGRESS

Sammy Cox is, as usual, at the front polishing his eyeglasses, and conning over in his mind a brilliant extempore speech Fernando Wood has added another button to his coat, and it throws up his aristocratic chin a little higher His white mustache and gleaming eyeglasses stand out in bold relief emblem of dignity and serene contemplation of future Democratic possibilities Next to him is that ultra cold blooded gleaming gold spectacled son of grimness and probity E Rockwood Hoar a strong opposite to the belligerent handsome General Hawley, of Connecticut who is idly beating the devil's tattoo upon the desk before him Lyman Tremain sits down in the front by the side of General Negley with his hands folded before him looking for all the world like a foreman on a coroner's jury sitting upon a body suddenly brought to an untimely demise by a visitation of the aforesaid God as a Western verdict once ran

Stephens does not look quite so much like a ghost this session Decidedly he is improved He sits upright calm sweet tempered and patient notwithstanding the tumor that is ever at its deadly work upon his thigh A silk hat is upon his head this opening day a purple cap will take its place to-morrow—Crawford in Pittsburg Leader

SEWARD'S EPITAPH—He was faithful is the only epitaph upon an elaborately carved white marble monument which has just been placed over the grave of William H Seward in the cemetery at Auburn New York It consists of a large and beautifully sculptured table laid entirely over the tomb raised at the head about three feet higher than the surface of the plane and surmounted with a rose wreathed with the leaves of the oak and the laurel The face of the table bears the words 'William H Seward Born May 16 1801 Died October 10, 1872,' and the base of the urn bears the inscription given above

MOULTON'S CASE

No we are not going to open up the Beecher business again except to say that the following remarks on the settlement of the Moulton Proctor suit from the Springfield Journal seem to us to hit the nail on the head

If Moulton so egregiously misunderstood Mr Beecher's explanation of the misunderstanding with Miss Proctor as to make it the basis of the vilest charge affecting the reputation of both—as he now virtually says he did, and for which he has voluntarily submitted to be mulcted in the sum of $1,735—is it not possible that he has totally misconstrued, if not intentionally misrepresented much else that he says Mr Beecher told him in reference to other matters? Evidently Mr Moulton's memory or at least his statements are exceedingly [illegible] Mr Beecher can stand, if all were published to the world to-morrow, at another he declares him guilty of the vilest crimes—and yet knowing all that he does he continued to maintain the most cordial relations with Mr Beecher receiving him into his family and allowing his own wife to receive spiritual advice from him. At one time he charges that Mr Beecher made to him specific confessions of a certain crime at another he willingly accepts the testimony of the alleged partner in that crime denying that any such criminal act was committed submits to be punished by fine without any attempt at defense, and [illegible] shelter behind an alleged statement made to him by Mr Beecher which under the circumstances, it is utterly improbable was ever made So far, Mr Moulton has been his own most damaging witness, inasmuch as he utterly discredits his own testimony It remains to be seen whether he will succeed in bolstering up his statement any better when he comes to a trial on the Beecher indictment

[From the Chicago Times]

While no one will wish that the suit had resulted in blasting the reputation of Miss Proctor this back down on the part of Moulton will not be apt to increase the respect of the public for his statements. If he would make such a serious charge upon hearsay against the chastity of a lady, believing it to be false what respect can the public have for any other statements he might make? He is either an unprincipled rogue or an abject craven

A BOY'S ADVENTURE WITH A BURGLAR

Tuesday last John Hannel a wealthy gentleman living near Bordentown N J left his house in charge of his son Walter a lad about 17 years of age while he and the rest of the family went away to remain until the following day Toward night the boy carefully locked up the residence and went a short distance to a neighbor's, returning just as it was growing dark As he drew near home he noticed that the dining room window was raised and suspecting something wrong he hurriedly opened the front door and entered He saw a man trying to open the drawer of desk with a hatchet The boy called to him to cease and clear out, when the robber turned and commanded him to give up the key Refusing to do so the man caught hold of him with the purpose of compelling him to produce it. The lad fought like a tiger, but was flung violently to the floor, and the burglar started up stairs with the hatchet in his hand The boy bounded to his feet ran to where a single-barreled gun was standing and fired at the intruder, but the charge just missed him He turned and hurled his hatchet in turn at the youngster just grazing his skull Nothing daunted, the brave fellow dashed after his foe and grappled him on the landing where they struggled savagely for some time when the [illegible] burglar threw his assailant over the banister upon the floor below, where he lay insensible for over an hour When he regained consciousness he found his face badly cut, his clothes covered with blood while he was suffering from a number of severe hurts Plucky to the last he groped around for his gun carefully reloaded it stole out of the house to a neighbor's, and, accompanied by him, began a search through the house for the burglar But he had fled and was traced for some distance over the light snow in the direction of Kinkora His identity is unknown—New York World, Dec 5

THE DEAD ORGAN

POOR NORVELL THE ONLY SUFFERER

[From the Bloomington (Ill), Pantagraph]

Senator Jones of Nevada who was said to have taken a hundred thousand dollars stock it is now stated never put in any money A Mr Wesley alleged to have had fifty thousand dollars in it is also now said never to have paid a cent and only to have promised to take his stock when a quarter of a million dollars in cash should be paid in President Grant was set down (by public rumor) as a partner it is now declared that he never gave or promised anything A J Drexel George W Childs, Levi P Morton, L Crounse, all booked (by rumor) for various amounts, are now said to have contributed nothing

It is now alleged Mr C C Norvell, the active man of the paper, put in one twenty thousand dollars—all he had—and that some fifteen thousand more were obtained from different parties, in small sums That is all gone, and the concern is owing some twenty thousand more Poor Norvell is dangerously ill with the disappointments and trouble. His friends say he has been deceived with false promises of support, and that his also backers have backed out, leaving him with the bag to hold,—which is very probable Instances of that sort have not been scarce since young Ben Franklin was fooled with similar promises It is asserted that the whole receipts of the Republic during its existence were less than four thousand dollars

A MOTHER TO THE MOTHERLESS—A New York correspondent to the Boston Transcript speaking of the late Mrs Martha Walker Cook a sister of Robert C Walker once Secretary of the Treasury says Mrs Cook was an elderly lady of considerable means who lived in good style in Hoboken just across the Hudson river from New York She took delight in making her home a home for motherless young men—those who came as strangers to the big city and had to struggle with poverty as well as all the temptations incident to city life. If a poor deserving young man wanted a good dinner or needed a place to sleep he always found a welcome at Mrs Cook's and she made it pleasant for these adopted sons of hers by giving receptions in the evening of a musical and literary character She surrounded them with home delights and attractions When she died the lamentation at her funeral was something unprecedented The Catholics and the Presbyterians united in paying their last testimonial of respect The young men of New York need mothers more than anything else There are thousands of women in the city who might be foster mothers to many young men and thus save them

A SOUTHERN OUTRAGE.—A North Carolina exchange says that one day last week at Durham in that State, Rev J D Hufham pastor of the Baptist Church in that place and editor of the Biblical Recorder at Raleigh shot and killed two negroes with a rifle Mr Hufham heard some one at his hog pen, and repaired thither with his rifle when he discovered a man making away with his hog He fired on him when to his astonishment he found that there were two and that he had killed both The North Carolina papers speak of it as a simple occurrence

CASTELAR ON AMERICAN INSTITUTIONS—Madrid Dec 24—The Spanish Commission to the Philadelphia Centennial Exhibition met to-day and Senor Castelar made an eloquent address He sketched the rise and progress of the United States and the ideas of liberty and labor which prevailed there, he found in American civilization language and arts traces of Spanish origin, which time and ingratitude were unable to eradicate

THE STAR ZACHARIAH

[From the N Y Tribune]

The Senatorial term of the Hon Zachariah Chandler draws to a close Eighteen years that able-bodied statesman has represented the Peninsular State in the United States Senate Long years And in many instances loud And now Mr Chandler having been three times elected Senator and having a great many times taken the British Lion by the Beard and said in the face of him as unpleasant things as could be said to a lion; having treated the lion as though he was an ordinary menagerie lion whom any dissolute person might shake his fist at for the price of an admission ticket having repeatedly asserted the dignity and glory of the American Union and clinched his remarks on that head with a ringing demand for [illegible], the '[illegible] of Tyrants' and having been generally conspicuous all this time as a friend of freedom [illegible] powers—now, we say he reappears before the Michigan Legislature as candidate for another term It is not clear from the newspapers which have broken out in a discussion of his claims and qualifications precisely what purpose is to be answered in his re-election We can think of but one and that is to keep the British lion in a proper state of intimidation and subjection And since the settlement of the Alabama claims that seems hardly worth while. The lion is quiet, why send Chandler back to the Senate to exasperate him? In the words of the Great Silent Man, "Let us have peace

We concede of course that Mr Chandler is in the beautiful and expressive language of the Berrien Springs Journal Michigan's great star in the Congress of the United States We do not dispute the entire accuracy of that journal's subsequent statements that he is one of the nation's greatest stars that illuminate the world" and that 'foreign powers—nations—know that star and realize its magnitude. The description is so strictly within the facts that the wayfaring man cannot fail to recognize the picture Very few statesmen in our time have exhibited such marked characteristics He is a star that has some times burned blue but the on looking nations have recognized him by his magnitude rather than his color The Berrien Springs newspaper however carries it too far we suspect, when it says it will take a long time for another younger star to reach its present magnitude and be able to occupy its place in the constellation For notwithstanding the brightness and beauty and magnitude of the star Zachariah, we have a strong suspicion that Michigan can furnish a considerable number of younger stars" who would be willing to give bonds to occupy Zachariah's place in the constellation if the chance were offered them

We do not quite understand the meaning of the Berrien Springs newspaper when it says In the meantime we have lost ground as well as prestige and the confidence of foreign powers, and to change relations in this particular, to satisfy a few fickle, whining minds of the Republican party who are inspired by the opposition in their good Lord and good devil is decidedly out of place, and void of substantial principle For how could we have lost ground' and prestige and "the confidence of foreign powers while the star Zachariah has been illuminating the world and "foreign [illegible] knew that star and realized its magnitude?" No we must take issue with the Berrien Springs astronomer We do not [illegible] that Zachariah is a star and one of the [illegible] greatest stars. Very few have [illegible] so often [illegible] and [illegible] stantly fixed the [illegible] eye' But the truth is, there is a growing disposition on the part of the [illegible] to make a change in the star business Mr Chandler has been starring it for [illegible], and a great many people about the country are willing to see some other star rise in his place even, though it should not be in the Great Bear, nor have any relations with the Dipper

A SWISS MOUNTAIN HORROR

SEVEN MEN BURIED ALIVE IN SNOW ON MOUNT ST BERNARD—A NOBLE DOG

The London Times of the 28th of November contains the following account of the recent terrible catastrophe on Mount St Bernard a brief announcement of which has already reached us by telegraph

On Monday morning last it was rumored in Sion that a frightful accident had happened at a few kilometres from the Great St Bernard This rumor, unfortunately, proved to be well founded On the 18th inst. at the break of day a caravan composed of twelve Italian workmen returning to their country left the Bourg St Pierre and the tavern of Proz where they had passed the night, and, despite the foul weather and difficult state of the roads attempted to cross the mountain pass or to reach the refuge, as circumstances might allow The sky was dark, and there was a violent snow drift On reaching the spot known as the Montague St Pierre, halfway between the starting point and the place of refuge, they were joined by two monks preceded by the convent servant and a large sized dog, who, according to the rules of the monastery, came to meet the travelers At this moment the drift of snow became intense Suddenly a frozen water spout called cuera in the language of the mountaineers, whirled through the air and, whisking up the fresh fallen snow enveloped the travelers. The first column, composed of five Italian workmen two monks, the servant, and the dog, disappeared under a shroud of snow several metres thick, with out any avalanche having fallen from the mountain the seven others who were following were stricken down by the same cause a short distance from the first. A deadly silence followed Suddenly the seven last victims buried in the snow succeeded in emerging from the white surface. They were saved and they returned to their starting place after having made every endeavor to rescue their comrades from the grave in which they are probably at this moment of writing still alive One of these men succeeded, by the force of instinct and the energy of despair in breaking through the ice piled above him It was the monk of Contat from Sembrancher He dragged his bleeding limbs about a mile and a half from the grave where he had been buried for several hours, and reached the first hut called the Hospital" situated close to the Velan It is there the young monk was found next morning nearly insensible after having been 27 hours alone, without food or assistance of any kind by his brother monks of the convent who had come to look after the victims of the accident How had they become aware of the catastrophe? The dog Turco had succeeded in scrutinizing through the snow and found his way back to the convent At the sight of the noble animal with his bruised and bleeding body the monks no longer had any doubt as to the fate of their two brethren, and started at once to seek for them A flask of spirits applied to the mouth of the only survivor of this scene—which is here narrated from his own description—restored him to life for a brief space, for a few minutes later he was a corpse. His colleagues and six other companions buried beneath the tourn have not yet been found This is the most terrible accident which has happened on Mount St Bernard since the year 1816

INCREASE OF DIVORCE CASES DUE TO THE RISE IN WAGES—Last week Sir James Hannen dissolved the marriage of a coal miner whose wife had left him about sixteen years ago The petitioner was called upon to explain the delay in seeking relief from the court His wages amounted to barely 3s a day out of which no saving was possible Recently wages had risen to more than 6s a day and the petitioner had therefore been enabled to put by a little store to pay the costs of his suit. His excuse was accepted and the Judge Ordinary granted him a decree The number of divorces rose about 25 per cent last year and this case [illegible] to show that the increase was due, not to mere vice, but to higher wages—The Law Journal, (English.)

The postmaster at Sehome, W T, says he will not hereafter deliver any mail matter at his office not addressed to it. Parties desiring their mail delivered at the Sehome instead of the Whatcom office, must notify their correspondents to address their mail accordingly

Two logging camps will be in full operation at Samish next spring The finest timber on the Sound is found there If it pays to take rafts from Samish to Utsalady, Freeport and other distant sawmills, how much better would it not pay a sawmill at or about Whatcom, within ten miles of it

The settlers along the Nooksack road to the British Columbia line are indefatigable and persevering workers Having failed in obtaining an appropriation from the county to complete the road connecting with New Westminster they now propose to raise the money by private subscription They deserve success

Just as the steamer for Seattle rounded Foulweather Bluff, en route for Port Gamble, on Wednesday evening last week at about half past six o'clock the old 'Mad House' on Whisky Spit was in one mass of flames, and by the time the steamer got abreast of it, the entire concern was reduced to little more than a pile of glowing embers It was not ascertained whether the fire was caused by accident or design and probably never will be.

GHASTLY POMP—The gilded aristocracy of New York have devised a means of making even death fashionable. The only daughter of wealthy parents, a belle in society beautiful and good died suddenly of heart disease Such a waste of good clothes which the envious world had never seen It was too bad and something must be done The pretty corpse was rigged out in white satins and laces looped with diamonds, bejeweled with the barbaric extravagance of an Oriental despot her hands encased in six button kid gloves and the full uniform of the salon With music and refreshments the exhibition was prepared for the guests, who came in answer to 1 500 invitations What is bred in the bone must come out in the flesh, and one generation cannot eliminate the ancestral passion for an elligant wake.'

A HUGE EAGLE—D W Cartwright, who is hunting deer thirty miles north of Chippewa Falls on the Yellow river, Wisconsin (says the Janesville Gazette of the 16th), forwarded President Whitford, last week, by express, a very large gray eagle which measured 7½ feet across the wings and 2 feet 10 inches from the end of his bill to the end of his tail. The manner in which this huge eagle was captured was a novel one, to say the least Mr Cartwright's partner was packing a carcass of venison into camp and the eagle swooped down upon the carcass with the intention of carrying it off whereupon the hunter dropped the venison and clubbed the eagle to death The mammoth bird will undergo the process of taxidermation, and ornament the cabinet room of Milton college.

RICHER THAN CRŒSUS—It is said the interests of the mines owned by Flood & O'Brien according to present quotations represent over one hundred millions of dollars A gentleman furthermore informs us that the rise in the mining stocks of the same firm within one month has been over fifty millions of dollars The success of Messrs Flood & O'Brien has been the marvel of this coast Nothing like it has ever before happened in the United States Indeed, it is thought that Flood & O'Brien own a controlling interest in nearly all of the richest mines on the Comstock lode Their interest in the Consolidated Virginia is represented at present quotations, at thirty three millions of dollars They own as much more in the California—S F Call Dec. 23

MOTHER GOOSE—We meet children now who have never heard of Mother Goose some who have never had the chance God help them others (God help them more!) who would not deign to read such trash—wretched little cynics of four years old, who if you told them 'Hey diddle diddle the cat and the fiddle, the cow jumped over the moon," would put their finger to their noses and cry. Not much to the delectation of parents, who would tell you that their boy is too smart for that why sir he has an eye for business already Heaven defend us from such smartness The child that scorns Mother Goose would scorn its grandmother—Overland Monthly for January

SINGING BIRD POPULATION—Some one with little to do has been at the pains of ascertaining how many caged birds there are in the United States Their number amounts to 900 000 of which 300 000 were imported last year Additions come only from importation since the number yearly raised here only about equals the number lost from various causes Of other cage birds there are about 100 000 and the whole consume seed of various kinds to the value of $2 000 000 a year

A DANGEROUS LEGACY—When the father of the present Duke of Richmond died he left his son a bank note for $50 000, but it is in a casket, and the secret is so arranged that any person tampering with it would receive six pistol shots As the secret of opening it with out letting off the pistols has been lost, the contents of the casket are not likely to be squandered There is French authority for saying this story is strictly true

THURSDAY MORNING, DEC. 31, 1874.

THE NEW BOARD OF POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

Last Tuesday evening Mayor F[illegible] again submitted to the City Council the names of Philip C. Schuyler, Chas. Holman and Geo. V. James, for Police Commissioners, and again the nominations failed of confirmation by one vote. We are unable to give the reasons which actuated the Council. It was agreed on all hands that the gentlemen named were men of probity and ample qualifications for the office. They had the confidence of the community, and, as we have repeatedly said, would have made good officers. This, we believe, was not questioned, even by those who accomplished their rejection. The Mayor did a handsome thing in again submitting their names.

While we regret the defeat of Messrs. Schuyler, Holman and James, we think our citizens are fortunate in securing the gentlemen who were afterwards confirmed. Shubrick Norris, John R. Foster and Wm. Wadhams are all well and favorably known. The management of the police system of Portland has been confided to able and intelligent gentlemen. We hope they will receive the support and confidence they deserve.

WORSE THAN THE SALARY GRAB.

Last November William S. King ran for Congress on the regular Republican ticket, in the first Minnesota district, and was elected. His competitor was Mark H. Dunnell, also a Republican, and a partaker in back pay. King had a hard fight. His election was bitterly contested by several Republican journals in his district; but he was wealthy, spent money freely and was successful, while Dunnell paid for his grab with his life. This Wm. S. King is the individual whom clerks in the Park and American Exchange National Banks, of New York, identified before the Pacific Mail sub-committee a few days ago. According to the testimony of the note teller of the former bank, King deposited with him on the 30th of May, 1872, the sum of $112,500, with instructions to place $40,000 in the St. Paul Bank, Minneapolis (Minn.), and make similar disposition of $0,000 more, while he (King) took certificates of deposit for $56,000 more. The president of the American Exchange Bank testifies that on the 20th of May, 1872, a stranger drew $115,000 on a check signed "Irwin." This stranger refused to disclose his name; but a messenger followed him to Park Bank, where he drew a large sum of money on a like check, giving his address as "Wm. S. King, Postmaster of the House of Representatives." This is the very man who beat Dunnell, in Minnesota, last November. For six or eight years he was Postmaster of the House of Representatives, and in that capacity he seems to have officiated as paymaster for the Pacific Mail [illegible] last year King [illegible] before the [illegible] Committee that he never received a dollar from the P. M. S. S. Co., and that he never paid out a dollar in their behalf. Then follows the significant remark: "The punishment for perjury in the District of Columbia is imprisonment at hard labor not less than two years." As the case now stands, the people of the first Minnesota district did not gain much by defeating Dunnell, with all his odious record on the salary grab. No one need be surprised to hear some fine morning that King has resigned. He will find little mercy in a Democratic House.

MORE BAYONETS.

In every instance where the authority of the Department of Justice has been called into requisition in the Southern States, Attorney-General Williams has advocated and employed brute force. He seems to forget everything except the right of the Government to coerce citizens [illegible] its authority. And if anybody holding to primitive views of Constitutional law [illegible] that the people of the South are not rebels, he answers that they were rebels once, anyway. To him the army is a sovereign remedy for curing Southern disorders. It is not surprising, therefore, that he argued vehemently yesterday, at a Cabinet meeting for more troops in the South. The Washington Chronicle and the Chicago Inter Ocean are the only disciples of this docrine, among newspapers, that we can think of just now. It is not so strange that Bristow and Jewell should give no opinion on the matter. It may be true that more bayonets are needed in the Southern States; but the people could not see the exigency at the November elections. We wish the Attorney-General could be persuaded that "peace hath her victories no less renowned than war."

NOT A DEAD-HEAD.

Samuel J. Tilden, Governor-elect of New York, has made a good beginning. Soon after his election, the president of the New York Central Railroad sent him a free pass for use on all the roads controlled by that company. Mr. Tilden declined the courtesy, and in a brief note pleasantly said he hoped to be able to make both ends meet in his new station; at any rate he would try to pay his railway fare, like other and less favored citizens. During the recent campaign it was freely charged that Mr. Tilden was a railway attorney, and a thorough friend of monopolies at heart. He always indignantly repelled the accusation, and he is evidently disposed to prove it by practical demonstration. Gov. Allen, of Ohio, declined a similar offer on his accession to office. It would be well, for decency's sake, if the same could be said of every Governor in the Union.

A STRAW ON THE FLOOD OF SUBSIDIES.

All who hope that the defeat of the Holman resolution means good to willing corporations will be encouraged in hearing that on the 15th inst. the House Committee on Railways and Canals, by an almost unanimous vote, agreed to report a bill guaranteeing interest on the bonds of the Washington, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Chicago Railroad. The projectors represent that the country through which the road will pass is rich in coal and iron of the best quality. They offer to carry freights at one-half the present rates. This action of a H[illegible] [illegible] a firm ground for the hope that before the present Congress adjourns the appeal of the distressed West will be answered with favor. It is generally believed, and it is probably true, that the Senate is more favorably disposed than the House to railroad subsidies.

As a further illustration of the spirit of the Eastern press on the subject of aid to railways we quote this from the New York Times:

The plain moral of it all [the Pacific Mail investigation] is that public companies should stand upon their own feet, and that they have no more right to be supported at the expense of the tax-payers than newspapers or any other description of private property. We hope Congress will not fail to remember this when Tom Scott's huge job is brought before it. "No more subsidies"—an excellent motto for this Congress and for all that are still to come.

The Tribune says:

Mr. Holman struck what ought to be the keynote for the concerted action of honest and economical Congressmen of all parties for this session, in his resolution declaring that, in the present condition of our finances, no subsidy in money, bonds, public lands, or pledges of public credit should be granted to associations or corporations. This would cut off at least the Northern Pacific railroad subsidy, the Kanawha canal subsidy, and [illegible] a brood of others scarcely less dangerous.

Two or three weeks ago the telegraph killed Col. Harrison Cockrill, of Estill county, Ky. It said that the canvass between Cockrill and John D. White (the latter being a Congressman-elect) was unusually bitter, and that in a personal encounter some time in December, White shot his opponent. The Richmond (Ky.) Register says that Colonel Cockrill is at home in Irvine, has had no difficulty with either White or Scholl, and has not seen the former since the election. Col. Cockrill is totally unable to explain how the report gained currency.

From the annual message of Gov. Allen we learn that the State debt of Ohio is $7,088,205 30, and the local debt (counties, cities, townships, school districts, etc.) $21,886,007 36. The total reimbursable debt amounts to $29,874,212 66. The taxes collected in 1874 amounted to $27,013,729 16. The taxable valuations, according to the assessment of 1874, are $1,580,370,324—an increase in one year of $13,104,085.

The Cincinnati Gazette says of Governor Allen: "With age he has learned the art of hearing much and saying little, which, in these days particularly, is good for a Presidential aspirant."

Jim Fisk's (and Stokes') Josie Mansfield has won her suit against the Fisk estate, and recovered $25,000—the value of two promissory notes with interest.

PROF. A. L. FRANCIS.—Elsewhere may be found the card of this gentleman. Prof. Francis has had over eight years' experience in teaching instrumental music. A great portion of that time he has spent in Salem, where a very encouraging degree of success has attended his efforts as a musical instructor. Recently he has removed to this city with the intention of permanently residing, bearing good recomendations. He is an elegant performer on the guitar, instructions on which instrument he will make a specialty. Instructions will also be given on the piano and violin.

TO ADVERTISERS.—Those desiring space in the New Year's (double) number of the OREGONIAN should hand in their advertisement before 8 o'clock this evening. The paper will be exceedingly attractive. An extra edition will be issued to meet the demand.

PUBLIC INSTALLATION.—A public installation of the officers of Harmony Encampment No. 4, C. R. C., will take place on Tuesday evening, 5th prox., at Good Templar Hall. The receipt of an invitation to attend the ceremonies is acknowledged.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Steamer gone.

Last day of the year.

Masquerade ball this evening.

Now is the time to "turn over a new leaf."

The atmosphere was very vaporous yesterday.

The California is discharging cargo at the wharf.

This evening Mystic Lodge No. 2, K. of P., will meet.

Peerless Lodge No. 215, I. O. G. T., will meet this evening.

Several well known Portlanders left on the outgoing steamer.

Several fancy lamps are being erected about the new custom house.

Abandon bad habits, and commence the new year with good resolutions.

Workmen are putting the finishing strokes to the iron fence around the custom house.

A most disgusting spectacle was witnessed yesterday on the streets—that of an intoxicated female staggering along.

We notice a splendid display of blank books in one of the show-windows of J. K. Gill & Co. Those who need anything in that line will do well to give them a call.

Every child in Portland should avail themselves of the liberal offer made by Mr. Wood to admit them free on New Year's day, from 8 A. M. to 12 M., to the Museum.

W. G. Gilbert, the architect, while stepping from the cars when the train was in motion, had the misfortune to badly sprain one of his ankles. Dr. Jones was called and rendered medical aid.

Two or three months after the adjournment of the Legislature the following item is going the rounds of the Eastern press. We hope it won't induce any one to clinch with the tiger: "The Oregon Legislature has passed a law providing that a person losing money at gaming shall have the right to recover by law twice the amount of his loss. Under this law, the more a man loses the more he wins, and such an opportunity for the breaking of faro-banks was never offered."

AMUSEMENTS.

MUSEUM.—This evening our citizens can pass a pleasant evening at the Museum. The "Secret Panel," and a laughable [illegible] titled "Pleasant Neighbors," will be presented. The company is composed of some very excellent artists.

RINK.—This popular resort will not be open this (Thursday) evening, in consequence of the near approach of New Year. On Saturday afternoon the Rink will be open, as usual. In the evening of that day the scrub race will come off, of which due notice will be given.

THE BENEFIT.—Madame Durot's benefit at Oro Fino Theater last evening, was a very successful affair. There was present a large audience, who seemed well satisfied with the manner in which "East Lynne" was produced. The receipts were quite handsome, and the fair beneficiary has reason to congratulate herself over the results.

A happy New Year's grand entertainment will be given this evening at Good Templar Hall, corner of Alder and Third streets, by the members of Peerless Lodge No. 215, I. O. G. T. A varied programme—musical, literary and dramatic—has been prepared and will be presented. From the character of the bill we feel justified in predicting that the entertainment will afford the audience much satisfaction. Among those who have volunteered their services for the evening we note the names of Profs. Brenner, Yost, and Messrs. Halpruner, W. L. White and E. White. The two last mentioned gentlemen will appear in a flute and guitar duet. At the close of the entertainment the hall will be cleared and the "mazy dance" inaugurated and continued until a late hour to-morrow evening. This entertainment is free, but only those will be admitted to whom invitations have been sent.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Read the School Clerk's card about delinquent taxes. It will interest all tax payers.

J. K. Gill & Co. have all kinds of New Year's gifts. Some of them are very elegant. Call and see them.

H. W. Dilg, locksmith, safe-maker, bell-hanger, etc., will be pleased to receive a call from all his old customers. Washington street between First and Front. See his card.

There will be a great auction sale of teas by S. L. Jones & Co., at San Francisco, on Thursday, January 7th, 1875. That firm has just received per steamers Great Republic and Vasco de Gama 4000 packages of the new crop of Japan and Comet teas. They will be sold in assorted packages in bulk—1 pound, ½ pound papers; lacquered boxes in 3, 4½, 5 and 10 pound packages, large fancy cases, etc.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

A grand masquerade ball will take place this evening at Philharmonic Hall, under the auspices of the Jolly Good Fellows. A large crowd and a jolly good time is anticipated.

This evening the members of Columbia Engine Co. No. 3 will meet with their numerous friend at the engine house, at which time and place the annual dance and reunion party will be held. For a number of years past this company have been in the habit of giving a party at their house on New Year's Eve, to which their friends are invited. Such parties have invariably proved successful in a social point of view. The promised one gives assurance of being as pleasant as its predecessors. Numerous invitations have been extended and a large attendance is assured.

POLICE COURT NOTES.

Pete Dougherty, for being found drunk, was sent to jail for 10 days.

The case of M. Flannigan, arrested on a charge of petit larceny, was compromised by the payment of costs.

W. Martin was arraigned yesterday morning. Defendant was accused of stealing a brass pipe from a Chinese laundry, and also some clothes. He was adjudged guilty and sentenced to the county jail for 30 days.

THE COURTS.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT—DEADY, J.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 30, 1874.

Otto Bernhard et al vs F. Creene et al; on motion of defendant cause continued until to-morrow morning.

Rodgers, Meyer & Co vs schooner Superior; exceptions to libel argued and submitted.

Adjourned until to-morrow.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Daniel McKircher, who has for a number of years been identified with the various wharves of the city, took his departure yesterday on the outgoing steamer. He goes on a brief visit to his home in Canada. Bon voyage is the wish of his many friends here.

For a New Year's suit, go to Beck & Waldman's to-day. They can accommodate any one from the tender age of five to the grey-haired man of three-score years.

Kilbourn sells to-day fine furniture, carpets, fancy and dry goods, boots, shoes and clothing, groceries and other merchandise.

St. Charles Hotel, Eugene City, is refitted in excellent style. Comfortable beds are provided and a first class table is set. Travelers will find it a most desirable home.

BAPTIST MINISTERIAL MEETING.

SECOND DAY—SECOND SESSION.

At the close of the afternoon session the following resolutions were offered by Elder D. J. Pierce, and after discussion were adopted:

RESOLUTIONS ON CHRISTIAN EFFORT.

Resolved, That we will try by the spirit of love and self-sacrifice to lead our churches into a higher spiritual life.

Resolved, That to this end we invite all Baptist churches in Oregon and Washington Territory to begin the coming year with a week of prayer, wrestling with God for an outpouring of God's spirit upon the people, and that we will all try to hold on through the year that our churches may have a continued revival spirit.

Resolved, That above all incentives to spirituality, we hold the simple story of the cross, which, by its exhibition of true brotherly love and self-sacrifice, sympathy draws out the purest feeling of the soul.

THIRD DAY—FIRST SESSION.

The Conference met at 9 A. M., and after a season of social conference and prayer, took up the resolutions on church finances. The first resolution was considerably discussed and somewhat amended.

Bro. Loughary felt that some might feel that this resolution was pointed to those who, though not up to what is mentioned as the gospel standard, are yet good brethren.

Elder R. C. Hill thought only a word of modification would remedy all difficulty.

After a slight modification the resolution passed as given below.

The second resolution was passed without discussion.

The third resolution, on method of giving, elicited a very spirited discussion.

Elder Russ asked where the envelope system was found in the Bible. Elder Pierce suggested it might be traced in the Bible Union version. [Laughter.] Elder Jones said this might be left open for variation, as some who might object to envelopes would be willing to be asked at the door.

Bro. Busey suggested the difficulty that men in the country do not have control of their funds at all times. They come in at the end of the year.

Elder Jones said the children of Israel were commanded not to come empty before the Lord, and Paul says, "lay by on the first day of the week" so as to have on hand.

Bro. C. E. Bryant suggested that the term "envelope system" be retained, to give the brethren a definite idea of the method. We give the resolutions as finally adopted:

Resolved, That we recognize the great truth that all we have is the Lord's, and that we cannot consider any man a fully consistent Christian who, having been fully enlightened, still falls below Jacob's measure of tithes for the support of the gospel ministry, while we believe the New Testament promises a still richer reward upon those who bestow more liberally upon the Lord's cause.

Resolved, That in the continued increase of our population, and in the entrance of a large heathen force upon our shores, as well as in the general destitution of Baptist churches, we recognize an emphatic demand for increased financial support from all our membership, that the members of our ministry may be multiplied and the efficiency of our churches be increased.

Resolved, That as Baptists we recognize the Bible method as the best way of raising money and therefore recommend that the system of weekly contribution by the envelope system, be introduced into all our churches by system and personal labor of pastors and deacons, urging upon members of the church and congregations the privilege and duty of laying by on the first day of the week, as God hath prospered them, not moved by impulse or pride but by Christian principle.

At a quarter past 10, Elder R. C. Hill delivered an address on the Church and College. Colleges, the legitimate outgrowth of christianity, pure religion and love of liberal education, are co-workers. Light has followed the true church round the world, as the light of day follows the sun. The lamented Buckner said: "Other things being equal, that denomination that gives the most thorough and liberal education will lead in power, in influence and efficiency for good." Wherever our churches have been established, colleges have been sustained by them. Good schools develop the mind. So far as we conscientiously believe we hold gospel principle, we should hold them up by the best training. The Pope said we might have a President and Congress to rule the legislation, but let me have the children to train and I will rule the nation. The time for us is auspicious. We have a college in the pleasant, quiet town of McMinnville. Here the Baptists of all Oregon may center their influence for good and their efforts will be richly repaid.

McMinnville college has already the credit of preparing some of our business men of great talent. An endowment, small but sure, has been raised. If we believe the school is the nursery of the church we should do our best for their advancement. The reason why denominational and religious schools are the best is because the heart, when warmed by God's love, reaches higher and digs deeper into truth. We have already lost much by yielding our own interests to others instead of supporting our own interests. Will the Baptists awaken to energetic effort? We believe the pillar is now moving before us. Scholars should not only feel that they are in the presence of superior intellect, but also with kind, warm hearts. Some professors are like an iceberg. We need something more. Pastors cannot do more good than to encourage their congregations to patronize our college.

This essay was followed by remarks by many, and thorough examination of college training and its benefits. Elder Weston, of Washington Territory, was called for, but excused himself and Prof. Bailey asked the privilege of reporting Elder Weston's remarks to him: "He said he just learned the A B C of truth in the college and then switched off into theology." A student for theology was surprised to find his professor setting him at work on a proposition in geometry. He worked at one, but said, "What has this to do with theology?" So our people are asking how the study of secular truth affects the knowledge of the Bible. A Chinaman, who has come to America for a fifteen years' course, says: "When we learn of your firearms and your naval facilities, then we will make China the western world instead of an isolated waste." So we must learn the full use of brain power, that in the great contest with evil we may not be like Chinese with bamboo sticks before a company of sharpshooters. We must have logical power to follow out a system of truths. A man has a little eye-glass—he follows the hand of God in the Heavens. It has taken 200 years to explain the little black lines on the spectrum. To-day, if we accept the spectrum, we can tell you what is burning in the sun in Sirius. This is the product of two centuries of thought. So with religious truth. We must have the great treasury of thought unlocked; we must bring the power of the mind to our aid. It is the business of colleges to sift out the the truth. A man is unfit for a teacher who is not a thorough scholar. The sum of six years' course is to show what a man is. Tyndall says: "The Great I Am is too prominent to be denied."

It is the business of colleges not to teach mathematics, or languages, or sciences, but to teach the great principles underlying the forms of things. The simplest way of classifying knowledge is by showing the relations of things. If a college fails to do this, it fails in everything. This rousing speech brought up Elder Weston. He said: "I was told not to be caught turning the grindstone to go to college. I determined I would first have the presence of Christ. I went over the Freshman year, but feeling the pressure of the needy churches I thought I could bring up the balance after I begun preaching. Here was my life mistake. I could not read the originals. Our professor was also unfitted for the work. I went through the course, and came on the frontier, and never had any chance since to review.

Elder Russ said: I run off before I got to the first switch. I found men who would knock me down in half a minute, and then I don't know enough to run.

Elder Stearns said: We see the light beaming up from God's word, but with our feeble minds we cannot grasp all the beauties.

Elder Sterling Hill said he too felt his life had been a mistake.

Elder Jones had a great pity for those poor fellows who had to make brick without straw. It stands a blot on Pharaoh's character, which not even Froude could whitewash. Bro. Hill had done what none else could do. But presidents of colleges must eat as well as others, and we must look to the conferences.

Elder Mayers thought the more unlearned ministers should be encouraged.

Elder Pierce told his story of Newton. Men are welcomed to study. There is no caste in our professors or ministers.

Elder Jones said the crowns are not yet distributed.

Dr. Hill read subscription of college, which gave very good satisfaction, and made some very feeling [illegible] college, the convention and the ministers' and deacons' meeting are the three bright links holding the Baptists of Oregon together. Let us strengthen all of these links.

Elder Bailey said Dr. Hill has done more than any he knew.

The meeting adjourned at half-past 12.

VANCOUVER ITEMS.

"Oregon mists" still prevail, sometimes pouring down in copious effusion.

The holidays are passing very quietly. There is but little money in circulation and trade is dull.

The impression generally prevails that we shall have a mild winter to compensate to some extent for the very cool summer. There is very little snow visible on the montains and foot-hills of the Cascade range, which would indicate that there is no danger of a freeze-up very soon. Nevertheless, the young folks hold their skates in readiness.

A sudden death occurred on the street last Saturday evening. A recently discharged soldier by the name of Oberlander, fell on the sidewalk and immediately expired. He had not complained of sickness but seemed in perfect health. Heart disease is the supposed cause. His remains were buried in the military cemetery on Monday afternoon.

The question of having a steam ferry across the Columbia is again being agitated. This time the proposition comes in the following shape: certain parties in Portland, who claim, and undoubtedly have, the capital to build and furnish the boat, and put on a line of stages to run from the opposite side of the river to East Portland, will do this, providing the military authorities will grant a landing place and right of way through the ordnance grounds, for low water, and a landing place near the Government wharf in high water. As this would be a great convenience to the officers of the army stationed here, and to such of our people as wish to visit Portland for purposes of trade, it would undoubtedly be extensively patronized. A plank road is expected soon to follow the opening of the line.

Quinn, as usual, is preparing for the New Year with his fat turkeys, geese, ducks, chickens, all kinds of game and fresh fish, and the freshest Shoalwater bay oysters. Orders delivered.

Make your friend a present of a box of cigars and get 'em at O'Brien's.

Buy your supplies for dinner to-day, at Quinn's. He has an abundance of good things—turkeys, game, oysters, etc.

Christmas toys, ornamented cakes, confections, for the holidays. Oysters in every style at Schmeer Bros.

Try that new brand of "Reecher" tobacco. At Foster's—American Exchange building.

A very popular entertainment will be served out at Museum hall, New Year's Eve.

For a handsome present select from the beautiful jewelry of B. L. Stone.

Masquerade costumes and trimmings at Harris & Blum's.

"One price and that the lowest" is the motto at Stone's jewelry store.

WHY SHOULD HE NOT?—Why should W. Friedlander not sell watches and jewelry so much cheaper than any other dealer in Portland; his rent and expenses are not more than one-tenth of those of other establishments in this city. 105 First street. Give him a call if you want to buy some good jewelry at a reasonable price.

Do YOU WANT a fine suit?
Do you want good under clothing?
Do you want stylish furnishing goods?
Do you want a No. 1 dress suit?
Do you want a first class overcoat?
Do you want to dress in style?
Do you want to save money?
Do you want to get entire satisfaction?
Do you want to be happy and don't [illegible]?
Do you want to look well dressed?
If you do, then call on JOSEPH KOHN, opposite the National Bank.

PAUSE WHILE YOU READ THIS! The season for parties and balls has arrived, and the cold, dreary days and nights of winter will soon visit us. Every young man, old man and boy for that matter, likes to present a neat appearance when attending parties, the theater, or walking about the streets. They likewise desire to be well provided against the cold blasts of snow and rain. What contributes more to the personal appearance and comfort of a gentleman, or boy, than a nice closely fitting suit of clothes, set off with a heavy warm overcoat? Why will any one be so foolish as to go without, either, when BECK & WALDMAN have everything in that line. Beck & Waldman in laying in their immense fall and winter stock of Clothing have exercised great care, and selected with reference to the demands of trade. They have purchased their goods low and are determined not to be undersold. Let the public note this fact.

Public Speakers and Singers will find "Brown's Bronchial Troches" beneficial in clearing the voice before speaking or singing, and relieving the throat after any exertion of the vocal organs. For Coughs and Colds the Troches are effectual.

When food is taken to excess, the portion left undissolved by the gastric juice begins to ferment, and by its physical and chemical properties, acts as an irritant, just as any foreign body would do, and produces an inflammatory action on the inner coats of the stomach, which necessarily interferes with the gastric secretion, and thereby impairs the power of digestion. The "PLANTATION BITTERS" corrects this evil and is therefore become a restorative power in the world.

Save the Horses!—The disease which so recently affected the horses has humanized their owners. We feel how useful these animals are, and how illy we are prepared to forego their use. We are now more careful of them than ever, and the sale of the MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT, has increased beyond all precedent. It is the most potent healing agent known for sprains, spring-halt, scratches, saddle, collar and harness galls, and the more serious external remedies of this useful animal. It can be found in every drug and country store in the land.

The effects of Hagan's Magnolia Balm upon the skin are to impart health to the pores and a satin-like gloss to the complexion. Hecatombs of victims have been offered up in fashionable life from among those who plaster themselves with powders and paste. Such only aggravate the difficulty; but the Balm removes the cause of the cutaneous torpidity, and a beautiful complexion follows swift upon its using.

Steeple-top Heads! There never was a time when the ladies dressed more gracefully than now. In ancient times, there were head dresses four feet high, so that a woman of five feet height was built up to nine feet altitude. All kinds of pomatum and sticky essences were used to keep the steeple-hair in shape. Mrs. Dingham Van Der Plasse gave lessons in preparing starch for the Elizabethan collars and head dresses, and charged five pounds sterling for each scholar. Now any lady by the use of LYON'S KATHAIRON can have her hair luxuriant, and wrought into fashionable shape, without the expensive attendance of a professional coiffeur.

The dullness noticed in the local money market heretofore still prevails and there is no probability of anything occurring to disturb the tranquility for nearly a week yet as it will be fully that time before the community will fairly settle down to business after the holidays. The old year is going out very sluggishly in a business point of view and men are having sufficient time to give matters a full re[illegible] and to [illegible] the [illegible].

Trade circles are undisturbed by any large accumulation or serious depletion of stocks prices are uniformly steady and most dealers will wind up the month and year to-morrow with a very good degree of satisfaction at the results It has been a year of [illegible] on the part of the [illegible], a year devoid of wild speculations and exorbitant margins, a year of prudent caution among merchants and capitalists and one of reasonable prosperity and progress in all industrial pursuits and interests in our land.

The Crop of 1875.

Grain dealers, as well as farmers are inclining to speculate on the probabilities of the harvest of 1875 and the [illegible] of the [illegible] on prices prior to the harvest. In our own State we do not believe the acreage sown [illegible] will much exceed that of the past year, and it is too early yet to tell anything about the yield only as it is foretokened by the amount of acreage planted. In California, however, [illegible] are [illegible] of another very bountiful crop. The San Francisco [illegible] of December 26th says "For a month or more we have had cloudless skies—beautiful weather the heavy rains [illegible] having [illegible] the ground thoroughly, leaving it in fine condition for tillage, and the husbandmen have improved the time to the best possible advantage"

The [illegible] in its annual review of the condition of the State thus remarks "The tillers of the soil are for a [illegible], loud in their praise of the weather Usually they have much complaint to make of the heat or cold, the rain or the drought, but now, [illegible] to say they are satisfied. This, they admit has thus far been the best seeding season California farmers have seen and if they [illegible] ly and reap profitably the fault will not lie with the weather until the present frost shall continue so long as to kill the [illegible] crops" As for the frost, it has amounted to nothing more than to ch[illegible] any [illegible] development of buds and blossoms, doing far more good than injury to the [illegible] plant The [illegible] says "The two California sugaries, the larger being located at Sacramento and the [illegible] in the county of Santa Cruz, are, we learn, preparing to plant more beets [illegible]. The business has become profitable and can be [illegible] to an almost unlimited [illegible]. The people of San Jose, Marysville and [illegible] talked of organizing for the construction of a [illegible] but they do not appear to have [illegible]" Cotton is arriving quite freely, a crop of 200 [illegible] now being [illegible] in Hooper's warehouse.

[illegible] is no more [illegible] of trade and but little [illegible] to-day. Wheat is quiet and [illegible] while [illegible] for the time being quietly awaiting the [illegible]. Oats are in fair [illegible] at current rates, and rather [illegible] activity is [illegible]. Flour is again accumulating and prices are [illegible] are not worked below our last [illegible] though buyers are favored Feed is also in large supply and with a good local demand, trade is [illegible] Vegetables and fruits of all seasonable varieties are liberally supplied and prices are [illegible] to get an unusual price for poultry and eggs about the holidays and hence the market is in no lack of these articles at [illegible] they were a fortnight ago. Fresh meats are also in full supply and [illegible] of fair beef cattle are made at $3 75@4 per 100 lbs. Mutton sheep are quotable at $2 75@3 25 ℔ head Dressed hogs sell readily at [illegible].

CURING

Costiveness Jaundice Dyspepsia Indigestion Dysentery Foul Stomach and Breath, Erysipelas Headache, Piles Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases Biliousness Liver Complaint Dropsy, Tetter Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood, they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous [illegible] Most skillful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed and of great benefit they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children because mild as well as effectual Being sugar coated, they are easy to take, and being purely vegetable they are entirely harmless.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

FOR THE SPEEDY RELIEF OF

Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

℞ Has been widely used during the last twenty-five years, in the treatment of these distressing diseases, and with such unvarying success that it has gained the reputation of being infallible The shakes or chills once broken by it do not return until the disease is contracted again This has made it an accepted remedy and trusted specific, for the Fever and Ague of the West, and the Chills and Fever of the South

Ayers Ague Cure eradicates the noxious poison from the system and leaves the patient as well as before the attack. It thoroughly expels the disease, so that no Liver Complaints, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dysentery or Debility follow the cure Indeed where Disorders of the Liver and Bowels have occurred from Miasmatic Poison, it removes the cause of them and they disappear Not only is it an effectual cure, but if taken occasionally by patients exposed to malaria it will expel the poison and protect them from attack Travelers and temporary residents in Fever and Ague localities are thus enabled to defy the disease The General Debility which is so apt to ensue from continued exposure to Malaria and Miasm has no speedier remedy

For Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy

The dullness noticed in the local money market heretofore still prevails, and there is no probability of anything occurring to disturb the tranquility for nearly a week yet, as it will be fully that time before the community will fairly settle down to business after the holidays The old year is going out very sluggishly in a business point of view and men are having sufficient time to give matters a full [illegible] for the [illegible]

Trade circles are undisturbed by any large accumulation or serious depletion of stocks prices are uniformly steady and most dealers will wind up the month and year with a very good degree of satisfaction at the results It has been a year of [illegible] the part of the [illegible], a year devoid of wild speculations and exorbitant margins, a year of prudent caution among merchants and capitalists and one of reasonable prosperity and progress in all industrial pursuits and interests in our land.

The Crop of 1875.

Grain [illegible] as well as farmers are beginning to speculate on the probabilities of the harvest of 1875 and the effect of the [illegible] on prices prior to the harvest. In our own State we do not believe the acreage so [illegible] will much exceed that of the past year and it is too early yet to tell anything about the yield only as it is foretokened by the amount of acreage planted. In California, however [illegible] of another very bountiful crop. The San Francisco [illegible] of December 29th says "For a month or more we have had cloudless skies—beautiful weather the heavy rains [illegible] the ground thoroughly, leaving it in fine condition for tillage and the husbandmen have improved the time to the best [illegible] advantage."

The [illegible], in its [illegible] review of the condition of the State thus remarks The tillers of the soil are for a [illegible] loud in their praise of the weather [illegible] they have much complaint to make of the heat or cold, the rain or the drought [illegible] are satisfied. This, they admit, has thus far been the best [illegible] California farmers have seen and if they [illegible] and reap profitably the fault will not lie [illegible] the weather until the present frost shall continue so long as to kill the [illegible] crops As for the frost, it has amounted to nothing more than to [illegible] any [illegible] and [illegible] doing far more good than injury to the [illegible] plant. The [illegible] says "The two California sugaries, the larger being located at Sacramento and the smaller in the county of Santa Cruz, are we learn preparing to plant more beets [illegible] has become profitable and can be [illegible] an almost unlimited [illegible]. THE HOME CURE THAT NEVER FAILS

The atmosphere of piny woods is good for consumptive patients, says Dr Erastus Wilson No doubt it is but HALE'S HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR, charged with the concentrated essence of the most valuable of all medicinal trees the Abies Balsamea, or Balm of Gilead and tempered with the healing and purifying juice of the horehound plant and with the purest honey will do more in one day to cure a cough or cold than the air of pine woods could do in a twelve month

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion Dysentery Gout, Stomach and Breath, Erysipelas Headache, Piles Rheumatism Eruptions and Skin Diseases Biliousness Liver Complaint Dropsy, Tetter Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood, they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action and they impart health and tone to the whole being They cure not only the every day [illegible] of every body, but formidable and dangerous [illegible]. Most skillful physicians, most eminent [illegible] and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed and of great [illegible] they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take, and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless

Ayer's Ague Cure,

FOR THE SPEEDY RELIEF OF

Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

Has been widely used during the last twenty-five years in the treatment of these distressing diseases, and with such unvarying success that it has gained the reputation of being infallible The shakes, or chills once broken by it do not return until the disease is contracted again This has made it an accepted remedy and trusted specific for the Fever and Ague of the West, and the Chills and Fever of the South

Ayer's Ague Cure eradicates the noxious poison from the system and leaves the patient as well as before the attack. It thoroughly expels the disease so that no Liver Complaints, Rheumatism Neuralgia, Dysentery or Debility follow the cure Indeed, where Disorders of the Liver and Bowels have occurred from Miasmatic Poison, it removes the cause of them and they disappear Not only is it an effectual cure, but if taken occasionally by patients exposed to malaria it will expel the poison and protect them from attack Travelers and temporary residents in Fever and Ague localities are thus enabled to defy the disease The General Debility which is so apt to ensue from continued exposure to Malaria and Miasm has no speedier remedy
